

Étienne Dudley

Étienne Dudley is an experienced business leader working in the technology innovation field. In his current role as Investment Director at Scale AI, he advises business leaders and entrepreneurs on the ways collaborative innovation approaches and advanced analytics capabilities can benefit their organization. As an early employee in the launch and growth of Scale AI, he has played a critical role in building the foundation for the organization. He currently manages a $120M investment portfolio to boost Canadian organizations' productivity and growth with AI.